The District Department of Transportation (DDOT) will solicit detailed proposals from organizations, businesses, or property owners to design, build, operate and maintain Direct Current Fast Charging (DCFC) charging stations.

Under the National Electric Vehicle Infrastructure (NEVI) Formula Program, DDOT received funding to invest in electric vehicle supply equipment (EVSE) and to build direct current fast charging (DCFC) stations throughout the District of Columbia in accordance with the program's guidance, specifications, and requirements. These stations will be connected to a national network of Alternative Fuel Corridors (AFCs).

The District currently has five (5) existing federally designated electric vehicle AFCs. Two are designated corridor-ready, the remaining three are corridor-pending. All corridors must have a DCFC station, however priority will be given to corridor-pending AFCs. The corridors are listed below.

AFC	Corridor Limits		Status
New York Ave (US-50)	5 th St NW	DC-Maryland NE Boundary	Ready
I-295 and Anacostia Freeway (DC-295)	DC-Maryland SE Boundary	DC-Maryland NE Boundary	Ready

Rhode Island Ave (US-1/US-29)	Connecticut Ave NW	DC-Maryland Boundary	Pending

DDOT requests proposals from potential grantees for project(s) to install DCFC charging stations along existing AFCs with prioritized deployment along corridor-pending AFCs. Private EVSE companies and other entities eligible are encouraged to apply with potential station sites secured or in partnership with a host site location. The total NEVI grant amount is $16.7 million over five years. Some of this amount will be used for labor and workforce training, planning, outreach, and administration as allowed by NEVI guidelines. Amounts awarded to Applicants will be decided at the time of award to provide the best coverage of EVSE and DCFC stations in the District. Additional information on the District's AFC network and deployment plan can be found at <https://nevi.ddot.dc.gov/>.
