PJM Capacity Market Withdrawal Feasibility and Alternatives Study

The Department of Energy and Environment (the Department) seeks eligible entities to provide a study regarding the feasibility of withdrawing from the capacity market of the PJM Interconnection. The study should: (1) adequately educate and inform policymakers and the public about the ways in which PJM's Minimum Offer Price Rule (MOPR) affects the District's climate and energy policy; (2) analyze the feasibility of withdrawing from PJM's capacity market, using a sound and effective methodology; (3) identify potential alternatives for procuring capacity, including necessary legislation; (4) consider legislative synergies from similar efforts in other jurisdictions; and (5) provide a list of essential questions and decision points.

The amount available for the project is approximately $100,000.
