DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA
MURIEL BOWSER, MAYOR

DC SPIRIT OF SERVICE AWARDS CATEGORIES

Mayor Bowser's DC Hope Award

An honoree that has identified a need within their local community and demonstrated a genuine commitment to creating solutions. Through the coordination and activation of service and volunteerism, this awardee personifies #DCValues and utilizes civic engagement as a tool— to be the change they wish to see in the world. Their efforts, service and sacrifices also compel others to align and serve, creating great impact across our city.

The Donor Difference Award

An Individual, group, or association that has made significant financial or in-kind contributions to the District of Columbia government in support of critical initiatives and priorities, including: education, economic development, health and human services, public safety, environment, affordable housing or government operations.

Ready, Set, Serve: Emergency Preparedness Award

An individual or group who has demonstrated an exemplary commitment to ensuring District residents and communities are prepared to respond, and recover from emergencies and disasters through the activation of volunteerism and service.

- One Adult honoree;
- One Youth honoree.

The Commission's Award for National Service

A past or present AmeriCorps member or organization currently administering a National Service program that demonstrates exemplary commitment to volunteerism and national service, with a keen awareness of the DC Commission's unique position, landscape, needs and investment priorities. This awardee also possesses an ability to effectively drive change and impact within AmeriCorps funded programs and across our local and national communities.

To include:

- AmeriCorps;
- Senior Corps;
- Service Alliance.

The Community Impact Award

Community-based organization that has demonstrated outstanding commitment to providing access to critical services and resources to District residents, especially within vulnerable communities— through service and volunteerism. Even in these unprecedented times, this awardee has made significant and intentional steps to reshape and reimagine volunteer operations and activations, for the purpose of sustaining hope for District residents.

Public-Private Partnership: Achievement in Collaboration Award

Private sector or philanthropic entity that has worked to create sustainable solutions to address the District's most critical social challenges and priorities. Through meaningful investments and strategic alignment with community-based organizations and the public sector, this awardee is an industry leader and an example of best-in-class partnership ingenuity and innovation.
