Section I: Funding Opportunity Description

A) Background

The mission of the Government of the District of Columbia's (DC) Department of Health Care Finance (DHCF) is to improve the health outcomes of District residents by providing access to comprehensive, cost effective, and quality healthcare services. As the single State Medicaid Agency, DHCF administers the Medicaid program and the State Child Health Insurance Program (CHIP). DHCF also administers the locally-funded Healthcare Alliance (Alliance) and Immigrant Children's Program. Through these programs, DHCF funds health care services for children, adults, elderly and persons with disabilities who have low-income. Over 250,000 District residents (more than one-third of all residents) receive health care coverage through DHCF's Medicaid, CHIP, Alliance and Immigrant Children programs. DHCF strives to provide access to health care services in the most appropriate and cost-effective settings possible.

Data from Medicaid claims and national surveys demonstrate a high burden of substance use disorder (SUD) in the District of Columbia. In fiscal year (FY) 2018, 9 percent (nearly 25,000) of beneficiaries enrolled in the District's Medicaid program, which is administered by the Department of Health Care Finance (DHCF), had an SUD diagnosis.¹ The latest National Survey on Drug Use and Health (NSDUH) findings show that the District had the highest prevalence of SUD diagnoses in the last year. More than 11 percent of District residents aged 12 or older had a SUD diagnosis in the past year compared to 7 percent of individuals 12 or older across all states.² Age-adjusted opioid deaths per capita was the highest in the District among all urban counties.³ Like many other states in the nation, the District experienced an unprecedented 236% increase in the number of fatal opioid-related overdoses among residents between 2014 and 2017.⁴

There are numerous indications that District Medicaid providers continue to find it challenging to diagnose SUD and provide SUD treatment and recovery services in an effective, integrated manner. 2016-2017 data from NSDUH indicates the District of Columbia has the highest percentage of residents 12 and older reporting they needed but have not received treatment in the last year for a substance use disorder (10.4%).⁵

In September 2017, the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) awarded the District of Columbia $21.1 million for the DC Opioid Response grant. The District of Columbia's Opioid Response (DCOR) grant funding, including this solicitation, supports the District's Live. Long. DC. Opioid Strategic Plan (<https://dbh.dc.gov/publication/live-long-dc>), as well as the Pew Charitable Trusts' Policy Recommendations for Addressing the Opioid Crisis in the District of Columbia.⁶ As highlighted in the Opioid Strategic Plan, there is a need for additional support for individuals who come in contact with the criminal justice system (e.g. arrestees, inmates, returning citizens and their families). In the context of supporting recovery efforts for homeless individuals, Pew encouraged non-profit hospitals in the District to fund supportive housing by providing matching dollars. While the patient populations served by the grant need not focus solely on reentry and homeless populations, applicants are required to consider and describe services that address the reentry and homeless populations in this grant. We encourage grantees to think about additional services that address the reentry and homeless populations in this grant.

In addition, in November 2019 CMS approved the District's Medicaid Section 1115 Behavioral Health Transformation Demonstration (<https://dhcf.dc.gov/1115-waiver-initiative>). This Demonstration allows the District's Medicaid program to pay for services provided to adults with serious mental illness (SMI)/serious emotional disorder (SED) or substance use disorder (SUD) by an institution for mental disease (IMD). The waiver also adds new community-based services designed to improve behavioral health treatment capacity and strengthen transitions from emergency, inpatient and residential treatment.

The District is leveraging these new authorities under the Behavioral Health Transformation Demonstration, combined with the DCOR funding to provide a more comprehensive continuum of behavioral health services for Medicaid beneficiaries and support the District's transition to a healthcare system that provides whole person care. The implementation of the Demonstration accelerates the need for a system that allows user-friendly capture of patient consent to enable timely exchange of sensitive health information among providers involved in a patient's care.

Most recently, the Department of Health Care Finance (DHCF) and the Department of Behavioral Health (DBH) have jointly published a Request for Information (RFI) to solicit information from consumer organizations, the provider community, health plans, and other stakeholders regarding the pathway to integrate behavioral services more fully into the benefits offered through the District’s Medicaid Managed Care program. Overall, DHCF and DBH envision a three-phase approach to Medicaid behavioral health transformation that will result in a whole-person, population-based, integrated Medicaid behavioral health system that is comprehensive, coordinated, high quality, culturally competent, and equitable.⁷

Concurrent with these efforts, the District has made great strides to improve access and use of telemedicine and support exchange of pertinent health information needed to diagnose and treat Medicaid beneficiaries via HIE. These include rulemaking to allow a beneficiary’s home to serve as the “originating site” for service. Telehealth and related data exchange efforts have been critical in response to the Coronavirus COVID-19 public health emergency. Despite these substantial policy changes to increase access to tele-modalities of service, opportunities to improve access to Medication Assisted Therapy (MAT) via telemedicine remain.

The Department of Health Care Finance (DHCF) announces a Notice of Funding Availability (NOFA) for grant funds pursuant to the authority established by DHCF using funds provided by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), State Opioid Response Grant, CFDA #93.788. To make grant funds available to deliver Medication Assisted Therapy (MAT) for opioid use disorder via telemedicine, the Director of DHCF has authority to issue grants under the Department of Health Care Finance Establishment Act of 2007, effective February 27, 2008 (D.C. Law 17-109; D.C. Official Code 7-771.05(4) (2012 Repl.).

B) Program Description

The purpose of this program is to make grant funds available to implement, improve, enhance, and measure innovative solutions that deliver Medication Assisted Therapy (MAT) for opioid use disorder via telemedicine.

At least three (3) grants of up to $250,000 each will be awarded to provide telemedicine services among the District’s medication-assisted therapy (MAT) network of providers, including providers authorized (“waivered”) to treat opioid dependency with buprenorphine. DHCF shall award at least three (3) grants to support the development of scalable programs that utilize telemedicine to increase access to MAT for purposes of treating Opioid Use Disorder (OUD) for District residents.

C) Program Benefits

Studies have shown that access to medication assisted therapy (MAT) facilitated by telehealth has potential to lower barriers to access while maintaining the effectiveness of therapy.^{9,10} The proposed TeleMAT grants will implement, improve, enhance, or measure MAT telehealth services for District residents in compliance with the Controlled Substances Act and the Ryan Haight Act.

Funding for this opportunity is provided by the District of Columbia’s Opioid Response (DCOR) initiative, which is funded by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) State Opioid Response (SOR) grant and administered by DBH. The TeleMAT project builds on other ongoing efforts to reduce barriers to evidence-based care for opioid use disorder as part of the DCOR and the District’s 1115 Behavioral Health Demonstration waiver, in addition to the District’s 2018 and 2019 Telehealth Innovation grants. Together these efforts reflect DHCF and DBH’s’s strategic priority to build a whole-person, population-based, integrated Medicaid behavioral health system that is comprehensive, coordinated, high quality, culturally competent, and equitable.
