BACKGROUND & PURPOSE

Background

The District of Columbia (District or DC) is an urban city divided into approximately 100 zip codes, four quadrants (northeast, northwest, southeast and southwest) and eight principal wards, which are subdivisions created for the purposes of voting and political representation¹. Each ward encompasses 12-13% of the total population in the District¹. The divisions of the wards allow for the comparison of subpopulations and the analysis of data that can offer insight about the health status and equity of the District's residents.

Recent years have shown widening disparities in maternal outcomes based on race and place. The District of Columbia's maternal mortality rate was 23.0 deaths per 100,000 live births for the five-year period between 2013 and 2017, while pregnancy-related mortality was 41.9 deaths per 100,000 live births during this period.² The national pregnancy-related mortality rate was 29.1 deaths per 100,000 live births; however, the difference between the U.S. and DC rates is not statistically significant. Furthermore, while Black women constitute just over half of all births in DC, they account for 95% of all pregnancy related deaths. This is in stark contrast with white women, who comprise 30.7% of all births but experienced no pregnancy-related deaths during 2013-2017. Pregnancy-related risk is also disproportionately concentrated in certain geographic areas in the city with 60% of pregnancy-related deaths occurring to women in just two of the eight wards, Wards 7 and 8.

Birth outcomes affecting the health of newborns and infants in the District include preterm births, low birth weight and infant deaths. Adverse birth outcomes continue to disproportionately affect non-Hispanic Black mothers and residents in Wards 5, 7 and 8 of the District. In addition, sociodemographic characteristics play an integral role in perinatal birth outcomes. The District has seen a decrease in the infant mortality rate (IMR) from 13.1 per 1,000 live births in 2007 to 7.1 per 1,000 live births in 2016³. Despite this ten-year decrease, progress has been stagnant in recent years and geographic areas of the city, as well as racial groups, continue to have higher infant mortality rates compared to the rest of the District. Additionally, across the eight wards, infant mortality rates during 2012-2016 were significantly higher in Wards 5, 7 and 8 at 9.19, 9.34, and 14.57 per 1000 live births, respectively²

According to the 2018 DC Health Perinatal and Infant Mortality Report, preterm births are significantly higher among non-Hispanic Black mothers (12.8%) compared to non-Hispanic White mothers (7.8%); and higher among mothers who did not initiate prenatal care (26.9%) than mothers who initiated prenatal care during their first trimester (10.2%)². Nearly 90% of non-Hispanic white mothers initiated prenatal care during their first trimester while only 64.3% of Hispanic mothers and 52.1% of non-Hispanic black mothers initiated prenatal care during their first trimester.

Clinical drivers are estimated to account for just 10-20% of modifiable contributors of health outcomes for a population;⁴ the other 80-90% are sometimes broadly called the social determinants of health (SDoH), which is defined by the World Health Organization (WHO) as “the conditions in which people are born, grow, live, work and age. These circumstances are shaped by the distribution of money, power, and resources at global, national and local levels.”⁵ Throughout the United States, income inequality and poverty is a major concern, particularly with regards to how it can impact social determinants of health. As per the 2016 ACS report, the median household income in DC was $75,506 in comparison to the median income for the United States being $57,617, but there is a high level of variation between areas of the city. Residents of Wards 7 and 8 are primarily Black and have, respective, median family incomes of $40,021 and $31,954, almost half of the overall District’s median income ($75,506).

As per the 2018 District of Columbia Health Equity Report, the two wards with the highest rates of unemployment, Ward 7 and 8, also have the two highest percentages of household incomes going to rent at 49% for Ward 7 and 52.8% for Ward 8. In several neighborhoods, particularly within Wards 7 and 8, up to half of all households have no access to a vehicle and rates of transit commuting in these two Wards are high. Food insecurity remains a major barrier to healthy eating in the District, with 11.4% of residents classified as food insecure from 2011–2016 and 4.0% classified as very low food security.⁷ Nearly 16% of District households received public assistance income and/or Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits; with percentages for Ward 7 and 8 falling more in the 30-50% range (Figure 2). Structural inequalities translate to Wards 7 & 8 experiencing inequities at particularly high rates, with rates of unemployment at 17% and 20.3% respectively and high rates of poverty, particularly children living in poverty at 40.9% and 48.5% respectively (Figure 1).

The greatest potential for improving public health outcomes occur when efforts prioritize addressing socioeconomic determinants of health such as poverty, education, and housing inequities. DC Health is committed to addressing the social determinants of health and eliminating these long standing inequities through multi-sector partnerships and policy change. Efforts to address the social needs of individuals in the clinical setting are a critical complement to this work that can meet the immediate needs of residents. Addressing social needs early in prenatal care and ensuring continuity of care between outpatient and inpatient settings, as well as between providers, can help ensure the best outcomes for District mothers and infants. Implementing interventions at each of these levels can achieve the maximum possible sustained public health benefit.

Performance Requirements

Scope of Services

The broad focus of this funding opportunity is on improving connectivity among different providers to share family social needs information that influence patient outcomes and expand the opportunities for pregnant women in Wards 7 and 8 to access comprehensive medical care in multiple areas in the District. This work should be done utilizing health information technology to increase the networks and support systems that are provided to medical providers and pregnant women. Applicants can choose to address either one or both of the following opportunities:

1.) Social Determinants of Health (SDoH)

The applicant should demonstrate the ability to incentivize or promote the assessment and sharing of social determinants of health information at healthcare visits by providing an integration platform which makes it easier for them to deliver and coordinate care. This should be accomplished through the development of a sustainable system in which social needs information is integrated and easily accessible to clinicians, specifically during the first prenatal visit and to continue throughout the perinatal period, while also engaging pregnant persons in the process. Social needs, such as safe housing and food security, impact the health of patients, especially so for pregnant persons. By ensuring clinicians are provided this information early during prenatal visits could provide an opportunity to make interventions in care, and future potential adverse outcomes could be avoided. A sustainable system would also anticipate and support the inclusion of community-based organizations so information can be exchanged about the status of referrals between clinical providers and community/social service providers in order to ensure a patient-centered experience and to improve patient outcomes.

2.) Perinatal (Prenatal to Labor and Birthing) Connectivity

There are five birthing hospitals and one birthing center located in the District of Columbia, dispersed between Wards 1, 2, 3 and 5. The applicant should provide a platform that will better connect prenatal care to labor and delivery options, with a focus on families residing in Wards 7 and 8. Given the availability of prenatal care, birthing hospitals/centers, and social support services across the District, this initiative will pilot a method to connect all of those care points to better facilitate a family going through the prenatal care to birthing to post-natal care continuum with ease. To further meet these goals, applications should prioritize the following components:

- Offer peer support networks
- Provide co-management of the patient's treatment
- Arrange for access to maternal and fetal medicine specialty services
- Utilize health information exchange; and
- Furnish assistance with transportation needs.
- Applicants will be expected to leverage and not supplant existing resources such as insurance benefits to address these components. In addition, applicants will be expected to leverage and not duplicate existing District perinatal health programs. Proposed initiatives should not rely on human resources alone to be the connection between settings (such as care coordinators, community health workers or other staff who are not technology-enabled.)

Other District-wide priorities include:

- Models that have the potential to be reimbursable through health insurance and therefore sustainable;
- Integration of the assessment and sharing of social need information.
 - This should be accomplished through the development or adoption of a sustainable system, approved by DC Health, in which social needs information is integrated and easily accessible to clinicians, specifically during the first prenatal visit and to continue throughout the perinatal period. Social needs, such as safe housing and food security, impact the health of patients, especially so for pregnant persons.

Target Participants & Location of Services

Social Determinants of Health

The target population is pregnant women in the District of Columbia, with a preference to families residing in Wards 5, 7 and 8. Other participants should consist of prenatal care providers in the District who are involved in perinatal care services.

Perinatal (Prenatal to Labor and Birthing) Connectivity

The target population is pregnant women residing in Wards 7 & 8. Other participants should consist of prenatal care providers throughout the District including and not limited to community-based organizations, support services, birthing facilities, specialty services and any other entities involved in perinatal care.

Reporting

The applicant shall be required to adhere to the reporting schedule established by DC Health, which includes, but is not limited to:

- Quarterly narrative reports submitted by the last business day before the 15th day of each month.

- Update calls/status reports every 4-8 weeks (as indicated) with DC Health program staff to report on project progress.
- Quarterly spend plans

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

Project Narrative

Project Description

This section should describe the overarching problem(s) to be addressed and the contributing factors. REVIEW AND SCORING OF APPLICATION

Pre-Screening Technical Review

All applications will be reviewed initially for completeness, formatting and eligibility requirements by DC HEALTH personnel prior to being forwarded to the external review panel. Incomplete applications and applications that do not meet the eligibility criteria will not advance to the external review. Applicants will be notified that their applications did not meet eligibility.

External Review Panel

The review panel will be composed of neutral, qualified, professional individuals who have been selected for their unique experiences in human services, public health nutrition, health program planning and evaluation, and social services planning and implementation. The panel will review, score and rank each applicant's proposal based on the criteria outlined in the RFA. Individual panel members are required to provide a summary of strengths and weaknesses found in the application.

Internal Review

DC HEALTH program managers will review the individual and summary recommendations of the external review panel and make recommendations for awards. Program Managers will weigh the results of the review panel against other internal and external factors in making the final funding determinations. Those factors will include minimally a past performance review, risk assessment and eligibility assessment, including a review of assurances and certifications, and business documents submitted by the applicant, as required in the RFA.

DC HEALTH will also conduct an excluded parties list search (EPLS) of the organization and executives via the federal System for Award Management (SAM) and conduct a DC Clean Hands review to obtain DC Department of Employment Services and DC Office of Tax and Revenue compliance status.

In this phase of the review process, DC HEALTH reserves the right to request clarifying supplemental information from applicants and request on-site pre-decisional reviews for those applicants being considered for award. Any request for supplemental information or on-site visits is not a commitment by DC HEALTH to fund the applicant.

The internal review panel prepares and submits a formal recommendation of prospective awardees, funding levels and service/activities to the DC HEALTH Director for signature. The DC HEALTH Office of Grants Management is responsible for certifying that all District rules and standards were followed for the RFA process.

Application Submission

All District of Columbia Department of Health application submissions must be done electronically via Department of Health's Enterprise Grants Management System (EGMS),

DC HEALTH's web-based system for grant-making and grants management. In order to submit an application under this funding opportunity, the applicant organization must register in EGMS and establish an account for the authorized representative.

If the applicant organization has an account already, please ensure that the Primary Account User is authorized to submit an application on behalf of the organization and his/her account is active. Currently, Secondary Account Users do not have submission privileges but can work in EGMS to prepare (e.g. upload documents, complete forms) the application.

IMPORTANT: When the Primary Account User is submitting an application, ensure that there are no other transactions on another device being attempted in EGMS under that Primary Account User's credentials. For security purposes, the system will only acknowledge one transaction and one of the transaction attempts may fail, if done simultaneously.

Register in EGMS

DC HEALTH recommends that applicants create an EGMS account, establishing a Primary Account User as the authorized representative at least two weeks prior to the application submission deadline. There is no guarantee that the authorized representative would have an approved account if the registration process does not begin at least two weeks prior to the deadline. Deadline-day registrations may not be approved by the DC HEALTH Office of Grants Management in time for submission. To register, complete the following:

IMPORTANT: WEB BROWSER REQUIREMENTS

1. Check web browser requirements for EGMS - The DC HEALTH EGMS Portal is supported by the following browser versions:
 - Microsoft® Internet Explorer® Version 11
 - Apple® Safari® version 8.x on Mac OS X
 - Mozilla® Firefox® version 35 & above (Most recent and stable version recommended)
 - Google Chrome™ version 30 & above (Most recent and stable version recommended)
2. Access EGMS: The user must access the login page by entering the following URL in to a web browser: https://dcdoh.force.com/GO_ApplicantLogin2. Click the button REGISTER and following the instructions. You can also refer to the EGMS External User Guide.
3. Determine the agency's Primary User (i.e. authorized to accept terms of agreement, certify and submit documents, request and accept modifications). The Primary User will determine a Secondary User and send a notification via EGMS for him/her to set-up an account.
4. Your EGMS registration will require your legal organization name, your DUNS #

and Tax ID# in order to complete the registration. Your EGMS registration will also require your SAM (System for Award Management) expiration date to be entered into your agency profile. Please ensure that you have an active SAM registration (www.sam.gov).

5. When your Primary Account User request is submitted in EGMS, the DC HEALTH Office of Grants Management will review the request. If the requester is NOT the identified Executive Director, DC HEALTH Office of Grants Management will make an additional request for the Executive Director to send an email to DC HEALTH to confirm that the requester is the authorized representative for EGMS. When requested, your authorized representative should send to doh.grants@dc.gov the name, title, telephone number and email address of the desired Primary User for the account. SUBJECT LINE: EGMS PRIMARY USER AGENCYNAME. Note: The email will help to support the validation of authorized users for EGMS. DC HEALTH official grant records will also be used. Please reply ASAP to any requests from Office of Grants Management to provide additional information, if needed.
6. Once you register, your Primary Account User will get an auto-notice to upload a “DUNS Certification” – this will provide documentation of your organization’s DUNS. You can simply upload a scanned copy of the cover page of your SAM Registration.

EGMS User Registration Assistance:

Office of Grants Management at doh.grants@dc.gov assists with all end-user registration if you have a question or need assistance: Primary Points of Contact: Jennifer Prats at jennifer.prats@dc.gov or 202-442-8983. Here are the most common registration issues:

- Validation of the authorized primary account user
- Wrong DUNS, Tax ID or expired SAM registration
- Web browser

Attachment 4 – Budget Justification

Budget Justification Instructions

Provide a narrative that explains the amounts requested for each line in the budget. The budget justification should specifically describe how each item will support the achievement of proposed objectives. This document should be submitted with the Excel budget template that was provided to you.

- A. Personnel: Personnel costs should be explained by listing each staff member who will (1) be supported from funds and (2) in-kind contributions. If personnel costs are supported by in-kind contributions, please indicate the source of funds. Please include the full name of each staff member (or indicate a vacancy), position title, percentage of full-time equivalency, and annual salary. Personnel includes, at a minimum, the program director responsible for the oversight and day-to-day management of the proposed program, staff responsible for quality improvement activities, staff responsible for monitoring programmatic activities and use of funds, and staff responsible for data collection, quality and reporting. Note: Final personnel charges must be based on actual, not budgeted labor. Fringe Benefits: Fringe Benefits change yearly, and should be confirmed before submitting your budget. List all components that make up the fringe benefits rate.
- B. Consultants/Contractual: Grantees must ensure that their organization or institution has in place and follows an established and adequate procurement system with fully developed written procedures for awarding and monitoring all contracts. Grantees must provide the following information in the budget justification:
- Name of Contractor/Consultant: Who is the contractor/consultant?
Include the name of the qualified contractor and indicate whether the contract is with an institution or organization if applicable. Identify the principle supervisor of the contract.
 - Method of Selection: How was the contractor/consultant selected?
If an institution is the sole source for the contract, include an explanation as to why this institution is the only one able to perform contract services. If the contract is with an institution or organization include the contract supervisor's qualifications.
 - Period of Performance: How long is the contract period?
Include the complete length of contract. If the contract involves a number of tasks, include the performance period for each task.
 - Scope of Work: What will the contractor/consultant do?
List and describe the specific tasks the contractor is to perform.
 - Criteria for Measuring Contractor/Consultant Accountability: How will contractor/consultant use the funds?
Include an itemized line item breakdown as well as total contract amount. If applicable, include any indirect costs paid under the contract and the indirect cost rate used. Grantees must have a written plan in place for contractor/consultant monitoring and must actively monitor contractor/consultant.

- C. Occupancy/Rent: This costs includes rent, utilities, insurance for the building, repairs and maintenance, depreciation, etc. Include in your description the cost allocation method used to allocate this line item.
- D. Travel: The budget should reflect the travel expenses associated with implementation to the program and other proposed trainings or workshops, with breakdown of expenses (e.g. airfare, hotel, per diem, and mileage reimbursement).
- E. Supplies: Provide justification of the supply items and relate them to specific program objectives. It is recommended that when training materials are kept on hand as a supply item, that it be included in the “supplies” category. When training materials (pamphlets, notebooks, videos, and other various handouts) are ordered for specific training activities, these items should be itemized and shown in the “Other Direct Costs” category. If appropriate, general office supplies may be shown by an estimated amount per month multiplied by the number of months in the budget period. If total supplies are over $10,000 it must be itemized.
- F. Equipment: Provide itemized costs, specifications, quantity, unit, unit cost, and basis for cost estimate (actual cost or price quotation).
- G. Client / Participant Costs: Includes client travel. Client/Participant costs are costs paid to (or on behalf of) participants or trainees (not employees) for participation in meetings, conferences, symposia, and workshops or other training projects, when there is a category for participant support costs in the project.
- H. Communication: Cost estimates for any communications and dissemination activities included in the work plan should be covered in the budget.
- I. Other Direct Costs: Other direct costs category contains items not included in the previous categories. Give justification for all the items in the “other” category (e.g., separate justification for printing, publication costs for presentations/posters, telephone, postage, software programs, computers, etc.). All costs associated with training activities should be placed in the “other direct cost” category except costs for consultant and/or contractual.
